legal requirements.

The Financier says: "The associated banks of New York city are now $2,788,950 below the required 25 per cent. reserve. The week's operations, as disclosed by the statelowered reserve requirements only about half the cash loss came out of the reserve banks, in their week's operations with the treasury, were debtors to an amount aproximating $3,000,000, and the interior took nearly or quite two millions aditional. In the market transactions, the decrease of $7 .-151,000 in loans is interesting. The loan item has shrunk since the opening of July about $105,000,000, and now stands at or about the point reached at this time last year. In other words, the banks have lost in loans all they had previously gained as the result of twelve months' business. They are, on the other hand, getting a higher rate on their present commitments. It is difficult to forecast future operations, but the very lack of money in New York must bring relief from some source soon.

ply the usual fall replenishment, but as yet there are no signs of aid in this quarter. exchange falling. The third alternative is assistance from the treasury, which has been absorbing heavily from the banks, all at present no intention to furnish funds to banks through public bond purchases and the only remaining form of relief, if indeed relief be needed, is to allow internal revenue funds to remain on deposit with Were it not for excess treasury payments at New York it is not probable there would be much of a stringency at any Saturday's bank statement proved rather worse than the extreme estimate had fore-The loss in the cash reserves ran up to $5,217,400, whereas the extreme estimate had been for only $4,500,000. Some sanguine person had hoped that the cash losses would offset by a loan contraction as high as $12,000,000. Instead of that the decrease in loans reacned only $7,151,000. As this only reduced the reserve requirements to the extent of $1,787,775, the eash losses have resulted in increasing the $2,788,950. It was not to be expected that so formidable an encroachment on the already depleted reserves of the banks should be without effect, and prices gave way all around. The losses in the railroad list are strikingly small, in spite of a large volume of dealings. This department offered a stubborn resitance to the pressure, and there were evidently heavy buying orders to be executed. In the specialties, especially those receptly active in speculation, the losses were more severe. In Sugar, the coalers, the local traction stocks, especially Man-hattan, Tobacco and Tennessee Coal, money outlook POST-ELECTION BUYING. Traders in stocks generally seek to anticipate a certain amount of outside buying which comes into the market after an election, owing to the relief from the unsettling influences on business of a political campaign. There was professional buying of stocks on Monday with this object and a resulting advance in prices. There was also some outside demand on Wednesday, as was expected. But it proved insufficient to absorb the offerings. The large buying by the bear element during the previous week had resulted in eliminating much of the short interest from the market, and its technical position was thereby weakened. The course of events in the money market demonstrated that the hopes of a relaxation during the previous week had been illusive. New York exchange, which had hardened at various points, and at Chicago had risen to 10c premium per $1,000, eased off again in the latter instance to a discount. The renewal of the demand from the interior lent business, with prices carrying, as a rule, a upon New York banks was supplemented by the continued absorption of funds by the New York subtreasury, and rumors early in the week that the Treasury Depart- grades, is firmer, and has been advanced. Potatoes, both sweet and Irish, are 12 to 16 lbs average, 7kc; 6 to 9 lbs average, 7kc. Treasury Department's offer to anticipate selling well, but prices remain steady. The hide the payment of government interest confirms the view that the stringency of money is confined to speculative circles to a large extent. It is urged, also, that an artificial easing of the local money situation would bring on demand for gold from London, which would result in making the last condition worse than the first. The activity of trade is making extraordinary uses for money in all the countries of Europe, and in England this need is aggravated by the war expenditures and the cutting off of the Transvaal gold supply, so that a withdrawal of this country's credits would have a widey unsettling effect on foreign financial markets, with a reflex effect on our own mar-For this reason the calling home credits is considered undesirable, it is the conviction that in event of any actual distress money in the country the world would have to pay its debt to us. The active and profitable use of money in trade, even to the exclusion of speculation on credit, is not felt to constitute a threat to real values, even of stocks and securities, but so long as expansion continues in the country's use for money and the subtreasury continues to make demands upon he New York banks, it is evident that the banks must continue to call loans to meet the encroachment on their reserves, while the reserves continue near the border of the legal requirements. Stocks held with borrowed money are thus forced to sell, and fall into the hands of those who have money in hand without the need to borrow.

A SOCIAL MIGRATION.

The Moving of the Prosperous to "the Other Side of Town."

The Philistine With the season of the social migration back to town there is a migration going on within the city walls that is just as interesting, if not more so. It is the migration from one part of the town to another, the exodus over a certain dead line that marks the rich from the poor. When a business man attains a certain income, a | 41,000 head. speculator 'strikes it rich," a manufacturer secures a monopoly or any impecunious son of earth is struck by lightning and receives a legacy, straightway he moves his household to the other side of town. And for this man's family, when they go, the scenes that knew them once know them no more forever. They do not say good-bye the friends they once had are no longer theirs; the neighbors with whom they used to chat over the gate read of them in the society events column, but they never see them. The grocer who once was so friendly to them is dead; the jolly butcher is forgotten—all are gone—faded and swallowed up in the misty past, that past so full of work, and struggle, and difficulty, that past of youth and hope; and the end for which they toiled and longed has come. St. Peter's golden gates have opened; they have moved to the Other Side. Men who have incomes of four thousand dollars or more, in Buffalo, make hot haste to live on Delaware avenue; in Pittsburg it is the East End; in Cincinnati, Walnut Hills; in Cleveland, Euclid avenue; in Chicago, Hyde Park; in Boston, Commonwealth | str avenue; in New York, Up Town; in Philadelphia, Below the Ralls. And in these is something migrations there wondrous pitiful; for the man pitiful. who goes can never return of own free will; and to be forced back by fate is to suffer a humiliation that is worse than disgrace that comes through crime. When a rich man, say in Albany, Syracuse or Toledo, loses his money and his family has to "come down," the sympathetic souls of earth shed tears for the glory that is gone. We tell how he has to give up all-he gave up his horses, his billiard tables, his | wheat, 11,000 bu; corn. 413,000 bu; oats, 218,000 bu; solid plate; he discharged his gardener, his rye, 5,000 bu; barley, 8,000 bu. ceachman, his butler. He is now keeping books for twenty dollars a week and his wife is doing her own work; and we relate how his children are now compelled to attend the public school. The women of the exodus tell me that the reason they moved to Commonwealth avepue was because the sewerage was imperfect in the old home the water was bad the air full of smoke, or the neighbors' children rude. And in various instances these worthy mothers, following the example of their husbands, unloaded the responsibility from Wellesley she could not stand it here,' or "When George got back from Harvay he found the society so awfully dull." right here let us note this prevalent fact: sire to separate from the old companions-a drawing away from the plain and simple;

duties and the forming of a condition that makes riches a necessity and their loss a calamity. That much of our so-called culture has | Barley malt dull; Western, 55@65c. been bought at the price of manhood no one who knows men can deny. But when matters go far enough in any one direction the selves; and now, behold the college settlement! That the men and women of wealth ten thousand, compared with the "sudden rich" who are making frantic efforts to get away from all smirching contact with plain people, there is no doubt; but the claim that money gives the right to monopolize the beautiful things of earth and the gentle lenged. The culture that is kept close smells to high heaven; only running water is pure. A pleasing fact that although the men of the social exodus lay the blame all on woman, yet the credit of the return move must be given to her. Hull House is primarily woman's work. The number of earnest women, highly cultured in the best sense. who are deeply interested in social questions, is most encouraging. And when that strong and gentle woman, Charlotte Perkins Stetson, deliberately casts her lot with the lowly and tells us that poor people often have a deal more culture and true charity than we who consider ourselves rich, she voices a truth that should be passed down Have your beautiful things, of coursewhy not? Encourage the workers in art. and use your money to decorate and beautify, but do not think that these things will benefit you if you join the social exodus and make hot haste to put distance between you and those who are less fortunate. Owners of art must build no spite fence! Show the marbles that fill your niches and the canvases that glorify your walls to nos Ayres light to heavy weights, 24@241/20; those who seldom see such sights; give your education to those who need it, your culture to those who have less and you double your treasure by giving it away.

Cute Boy.

New York Tribune. Among children's cute sayings the following anecdote is related: A little boy was told by his father, on the departure of the latter for a lengthened absence, to take care "I leave mamma," said the confiding parent, "in your charge." That night when the young hopeful knelt, as was his custom, by his mother's knee he prayed;

Please, Lord, bless grandmamma and take care of her; bless father and take care of him, but you needn't trouble about Detroit Journal. the automobile," observed the Lay Figure, meaning to comment upon the safety of the new contrivance. to his feet, crying:

WHEAT SLIDES OFF 1-4C AND 3-SC, CLOSING DULL AT 67 1-4C.

Corn and Oats Show a Little Strength, but Provisions Are Somewhat Weaker with the Chief Cereal.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 .- Wheat to-day went even lower than yesterday's bottom price, closing 1/4@38c lower on bearish statistics and lack of cash demand. Corn closed unchanged to 4c down, and oats a shade lower. Provisions closed lower, with January pork 73/2c down. The story of wheat to-day was one of continuous liquidation, based on the bearish tone of statistics. The downhearted bulls let their holdings slide in a despondent stream. The decline was in spite of Liverpool. The opening was at a shade loss, December at 671/2067%c and May at 711/40 71%c. This was the highest price for the day. Receipts in the Northwest were liberal and there was a prospect of an increase in the visible of 2,000,000 bu and in local stocks of 1,000,000 bu. The cash demand was small. With this array of figures as an impulse, the market eased off from the opening, going 16c under puts, December, to 6716c and May to 71c. There was a momentary rally of a shade on buying against puts, but it was merely a straw in the downward rush. At the close there was continued buying against puts, and some covering by shorts, which put closing figures at 6714c for December and 7116c for May. The market was dull, with a belief that the price would sink still more on Monday, when the statistics are expected to be 681,000 bu. Receipts at primary points were 1,017,082 bu, against 1,539,869 bu last year. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 1,059 cars, as compared with 723 cars last week and 1,229 a year ago. Receipts here were 365 cars, twenty-eight of contract

Corn stubbornly opposed traveling parallel with wheat. In this it was assisted by the statistics. There was a report of damage from frost and dry weather in Argentina, and Liverpool was firm. There was a difference of opinion concerning country offer-ings, but a majority held they were still small and not increasing. December opened unchanged at 314@31%c, ranged at 314@314c and closed at 31\4@31\8c. May opened a shade down at 32\2@32\8c and closed at the last named figures. Receipts here were 231 cars, and at primary points 457,000 bu. The government report was taken to indicate an improvement in the yield. New York reported thirty loads taken for export. There was quite a good trade in oats, th selling of May by professionals being the feature. The demand was sufficient to consume the offerings. December sold at 2246 22%c and closed at 224@22%c. May sold at 23/423%c and closed at those figures. Receipts were 152 cars. Provisions were dull and the price tended downward with wheat. January pork closed 71/2c lower at $9; January lard, 21/2c under yesterday's close at $5.221/2, and January ribs 5c lower at $4.95. There were few offerings and little demand, and exports for the week showed up bad. Hog prices were also lower, a fact which had a depressing influence. Estimated receipts Monday: Wheat, 110 cars; corn, 300 cars; oats, 250 cars; hogs, Leading futures ranged as follows:

LIVE STOCK QUOTATIONS

CATTLE RECEIPTS INCREASED, BUT CHOICE STEERS WERE SCARCE.

A Satisfactory Week In the Hog Market, with a Slight Reaction in Prices at Yesterday's Close.

UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPO-LIS. Nov. 11 .- Cattle-Receipts, 130; shipments small. The receipts of cattle this week have been comparatively large, showing an increase of a little less than 400 over last week and about 1,200 over the same week a year ago. Thus far this year the receipts show a decrease of less than 1,900 compared with the same period last year. In the steer line there has been rather a scarcity of choice stock, and there were none represented good enough to command top quotations. Sales were made as high as $6.25, with a few around $6, while the bulk of the supply sold below $5.75. There was not the demand for helfers toward the close of the week that there has been recently, and it was more or less difficult to negotiate sales at uneven but generally lower prices. The demand for cow stuff continued very good, and sales were usually at strong prices and very satisfactory to salesmen and owners. The receipts to-day were small, as usual at this time in the week, and there was no urgent demand from any source or for any kind, but the offerings finally changed hands at quotably steady prices compared with yesterday. Quotations:

Good to choice cows and calves...35.00@50.00 Common to medium cows and calves15.00@30.00 Hogs-Receipts, 6,000; shipments, 1,500. The receipts of hogs for six days show an average of nearly 6,000 per day and an increase of 9,500 over last week and 2,500 over the same week a year ago. Thus far this year the receipts are a little over 33,000 smaller than the same period last year. For the week ending yesterday local packers bought a total of 21,312, against 20,101 last week, and during the same period the shipments were 10,374, against 5,111 the preceding week. There was quite a good improvement in the demand from outside sources, and with fair competition from local buyers there was an upward tendency in values until the close of the week, when there was a slight reaction. The quality generally, if any different, was a little better than recently, and a few loads of choice hogs were represented. Good clearances were made each day, but it was apparent that the demand had been very well supplied. The receipts to-day were about 2,500 larger than a week ago and over 1,000 smaller than a year ago. The market opened with a weaker feeling in sympathy with other places, and later at a decline of 21/265c in prices compared with yesterday, the trading was moderately ac-tive and a good clearance was made. The average at the close of the week was not perceptibly different compared with the opening. Quotations: Good to choice medium and heavy$4.10@4.20 Mixed and heavy packing...... 4.00@4.07%

Good to choice light weights..... 4.05@4.12% Common to fair light weights.... 4.00@4.05 Common to good pigs..... 3.00@3.75 Roughs 3.00@3.83 Sheep-Receipts, 150; shipments small. This week's receipts of sheep and lambs have been small, showing a slight change compared with last week and a decrease of over 300 compared with the same week a year ago. Thus far this year the receipts are over 16,000 smaller than the same period last year. On account of the limited supply the demand for the most part was a little sluggish, but salesmen did not have much difficulty in maintaining a steady. average in prices throughout the week. Good lambs sold as high as $5 and the better class of sheep sold around $3.75 for a top. The condition of the trade elsewhere does not indicate a healthy market, and it is reasonable to expect that a liberal supply here would result in lower prices from the fact that those now current are relatively higher than in the East. The receipts to-day were as large as usual at this time in the week, and with a limited demand from all sources it was more or less diffi-
